Organization of Hostess Club Planned By Members Of AWS

The AWS cabinet met as three committees last Thursday, March 17, said Megan Kipf, AWS president today. Each committee was in charge of an assigned portion of the cabinet's business, the first in charge of the WSSF, the second, completion of the organization of the hostess group, and the third, composing a welcoming letter to prospective women students.

Newman Members Given Communion

The Newman club, a social and religious club for Catholic students, received communion in a body at St. Joseph's 9:30 mass, Sunday, March 20, said Marie Pound, advisor. Later the club met for breakfast in the home of Mrs. Doris Bruce. They will again attend mass at St. Anne's church, Sunday, April 10, at 9:30 a. m. Miss Pound said that the club, which is named after Cardinal Newman, is open to all Catholic students and any other students who are interested.

Present members include Gus Meir, Doris Bruce, Helen Bigoner, Margaret Clough, Jackie Morrisette, Joan Geisler, Jean Geisler, Frank Seely, Micheline Hoffman, and Dolores Moore.

The next meeting will be held in A4, Thursday, March 31, at 2 p. m.

Ten Dollars Short

The first committee discussed ways and means of raising the remaining ten dollars of their quota for the WSSF. Ten dollars of the twenty dollars quota has already been appropriated from the AWS treasury. A volleyball tournament, suggested by Janet Seibert, recreation chairman and president of WAA, was decided upon, subject to the approval of the executive board.

The business before the second committee was the completion of the organization of the hostess club. Jackie Morris, in charge of the group, attended the meeting to present this matter. It was decided to send notes to girls who had served before, asking if they would be interested in joining. These girls serve at special functions held in the college cafeteria, and usher for college plays. It was planned, subject to approval, that the organization have a luncheon party once a year.

Welcome Letter Project

The third committee discussed a welcome letter to be sent to prospective women students sometime this summer. Lois Crawford is chairman in charge of this project and will edit the material for the materials which is to be supplied by orientation classes.

Names Omitted Last Week

Eleanor Carter and George C. Williams are newly elected members of Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society. Although they took part in the initiation held last Friday in the college library, their names were omitted in the report. Membership to the Phi Theta Kappa is awarded as a result of three semesters in the Alpha Gamma Sigma and election by faculty members.

SAC Talent Show To Be Held Soon

Final preparations for the Talent Show to be held at Willard Junior High School auditorium on April 6, are well under way, according to Bob Zelinka, student commissioner of assemblies, and promoter of the show.

Lyle Christianson has been named to act as master of ceremonies for the hour long show. Acts are being provided by each of the men's and women's service clubs on the campus, and by other talented members of the student body.

Previews of some of the attractions in the show include: singing, dancing, group singing, and several skits. The first rehearsal and organization of the show was held in the SAC cafeteria Wednesday, March 23.

Tattlers Attend Stage Play At Pasadena

"Elizabeth the Queen" starring Jane Cowl at the Pasadena Playhouse was attended by members of the Tavern Tattlers, literary organization of Santa Ana college, March 18.

Preceding the play, a barbecue was held at the home of Thomas H. Glenn, director of the English department at SAC, in Claremont. Hamburgers, potato chips, and cherry pie constituted the menu along with a French "tossed" salad. Before dinner, several Tattlers visited the campuses of Scripps and Pomona colleges.

STUDENT COOPERATION URGED

If any further damage is done to the juke box in the student union, it will have to be removed, according to Frank Newberry, A.S.B. president. Newberry stated that the juke box is not the property of the school and that the owner had made this stipulation.

The student executive board wishes to remind the students that the large parking lot in the back of the music room is for parking, and not drag races. These races result in interrupting classes held in the vicinity and cause dust and gravel to enter many of the adjacent rooms.

DUKE'S DOMAIN

If you have read any of the movie advertisements lately you will certainly see the splurge about the most momentous movie of our time, namely, "Joan Of Arc". For propaganda purposes they (the movie studio) link the name of this picture with the greatest pictures in the past and claim that this epic is as good if not better than any ever produced before.

Correct Sometimes

In some ways I must admit that they are correct. "Joan Of Arc" probably uses technicolor to better advantage than any other picture with the possible exception of "Captain From Castile." And the pageantry will equal anything ever attempted by Cecil B. DeMille in his most prolific period. Then, too, some parts of this momentous production contain the boredom equal to that of any other picture produced.

Some Are Pleased

Many of the people who have already paid exorbitant prices to see this "classic" are well pleased with the results of the extreme efforts of the producers and of the actors. I will certainly admit that this is a better class of picture than we are in the habit of suffering through, but to my mind it falls short of the intended mark and if this is the best Hollywood claims it can do then I'll go back to reading books for my enjoyment and satisfaction.

Heart And Soul

It is generally agreed by those who have in any manner been close to this production that Ingrid Bergman put her whole heart and soul into the picture. Even to the extent of day to day living of the part. This may be true but it will not axiomatically follow that because of this the acting must be superb. Perhaps this constant association with the part has been detrimental for I was impressed with the overacting of the part of "Joan" by Miss Bergman.

Even though the personality she was portraying was an unusual character and needs to be played in an unusual manner I was left with the impression that her acting was unnatural and as I have mentioned was, to use a peasant expression, "hammy".

One Star Outstanding

On the otherhand the one jewel of the picture was the acting of Jose Ferrier portraying the Dauphin of France. All that I could imagine of a dauphin was portrayed accurately I think and with a naturalness not seen on the silver screen since Fredrick March as Al in "The Best Years Of Our Lives". Ferrier's facial expressions were most meaningful and he seems to pay a great deal of attention to even the most unimportant body movements and as a consequence pleases even our subconscious mind.

But all in all I would rather see pictures of this sort than all the so called "companion" features ever filmed but the production falls short of its attempted goal, that is to be one of the best pictures of all time. For I think the pictures we remember best are those we understand best because of their natural presentation and for that reason if no other, "Joan of Arc" is just another "good" picture.

Bring a friend or bring your poodle—

But be sure and come to the Gypsy Doodle.

OBSCURED FACTS ADD COLOR TO HISTORY OF COLLEGE

By GRACE REED

Any student who owns an El Don book cover knows Santa Ana College was founded in 1915. The first enrollment mounted to the overwhelming heights of 56 students. This conspicuous group overcame their self conscious enormity by mingling with the high school students with whom they generously shared the campus. By the year 1920 registration zoomed to the soaring peak of 125.

Personalities

CHARLES ARMOUR

One of the select few who can lay legal claim to membership in the Phi Theta Kappa, the ultra scholastic society on campus, is yellow thatched, blue eyed, soft spoken Charles Armour, personable young member of this spring's graduating class.

Some nineteen years ago Charles first saw the light of day within the boundaries of rugged Colorado. Pushing west Charles spent enough time in Santa Fe,

New Mexico to graduate from the local high school.

Later duty called his father to California where he is now associated with the Holly Sugar plant here in Santa Ana. This stroke of luck doesn't seem to anger Charles a bit and we suspect that he will become a very enthusiastic rooter for the "golden" state.

Although concentrating in business administration here Charles is very much interested in college affairs having recently in cooperation with Cecil Mahon contributed a new method of carrying on student body elections. He is also interested in the Tavern Tattlers and recently contributed a piece to the Tavern Post. Another club that claims his attention is the French club of which he is president.

During leisure hours Charles dotes on reading especially biographies of outstanding personalities and all types of historical fiction.

Editorial: "Young Joe College"

It has been lately noted by those men interested collecting statistics that the average age of college students in American colleges is being lowered considerably from its immediate post-war peak.

Of course the reason is obvious. Most of the war veterans who flocked to the colleges immediately after the war are now out of college and making their name society.

And in their place we have the high school graduates who in this return to somewhat normal times are allowed to go directly from high school to college without two or three year detours into the armed forces.

Now with this younger set again established in college one wonders if we shall have such fads as afflicted the campuses prior to the war. Or is it possible that the youth of America has been sobered sufficiently by the war environment to make an attempt to take what the college offers and place education above enjoyment.

As yet there is no clear indication as to which course the college youth of today will take but there are signs developing that will be interesting to watch. What ever course is finally decided we can be sure that it will be the students choosing as it always has been in the past. We can only hope it is the right decision. Brain power will be in great demand in the years to come.—M.D.

the college to Mike Williams, Chairman of Public Relations within the next three weeks.

The Executive Board is planning to continue with the old decals, but would like something in a different vein to go with it. The theme may be comic, or in character with the college. Drawings should be submitted in actual size, not exceeding four inches square.

Following graduation from Santa Ana, Ruth transferred to Santa Barbara college and changed her major to home economics. Her duties at Santa Barbara include serving as secretary of the executive board and vice-president of her sorority, Tau Gamma Sigma. She is also active in the home economics club.

Trackmen Take Hornets In Loop Opene

Harry Quackenbush Nabs 880 Victory At The Wire

Pasadenans Victorious Over Touted Don Thinclads In Upset Here

Pasadena City College's uptown tracksters came to town last Thursday afternoon to defeat the luckless and crippled Santa Ana cinder squad at Clayton field 70½ to 57½ in a four way meet which included Cal Poly at San Dimas and the El Toro Marine Corps teams which collectively were only allowed 20½ points by the two powerful city college cinders squads.

LACC Falls Before Don Horsehidors In 12-8 Contest Here

The Don hardballers won a double victory last Friday by defeating Los Angeles City College 12-8. The Dons and the "City Men" had previous tied in their first game 7-7 when darkness set in and stopped the game at the end of eight innings. In Friday's contest the Dons scored in the first inning on runs by Goetting and Foster. The City men failed to score in their half of the inning, so this gave the Dons a moral victory.

Christianson Hits

The locals won Friday also by the 12-8 margin. Runs crossed the plate in the 1st, 5th, 6th, and 7th innings. Shortstop Lyle Christianson led the Don attack by getting a double and two singles in five trips to the plate, plus making a beautiful jumping catch of a line drive in the third inning. Louie Armendariz and Lester Nieblas each hit three for six. The locals got 12 hits to the L.A.C.C. 8. The City men got three home runs off the Don moundsmen.

Gordo Rodriguez started on the mound for the locals and was relieved by Lester Nieblas in the sixth. Bob Gross took over and chucked the final frame.

Don Rooters Help

The Don rooters were on hand to add much to the game. More students should try to see the Don baseball, because as in football and basketball it gives the team assurance that the school is behind them. All the Don home games are played on the Santa Ana high school diamond.

The Dons, who were expected to end up on the tall end of the afternoon's score, definitely showed that they lacked the depth to lick the Pasadenans without the services of such Santa Ana stalwarts as Dick Coons, Don Balsley, Noel Palm and Bill Eckles. The locals just haven't been able to get their cinder squad into winning form to date.

When and if the right combination ever hits the track some afternoon, spectators can well expect to see a track meet that will be all Dons. Against PCC, even the events the SAC cindermen were able to cop were nullified by the deep Pasadena squad taking seconds, thirds and fourths.

Among notable performances of the afternoon was that of Jim Newcomb. The local miler sent the meet off to a good start for the Dons with his 4 min. 30.6 performance for the distance without ever being pushed at any point. Don Vaughn took the high hurdles in 15.7 sec. for the locals. Gordon Pusser was out in front all the way to win the two mile in 10:39.2. Kelly Hylton was nosed out of the javelin by Larry Goins of Pasadena but came back to win the shot put at 44 ft. 1 inch. Highlight of the Dons performance at the meet was Harry Quackenbush's win in the 880 yard run. Quackenbush nosed out Pasadena's Harry Butler just at the wire starting to make his bid in the last turn.

Toro Takes Dons 12-1

Playing their first home game of the season, the El Toro Marines handed the Don horsehidors their first defeat of the season Tuesday afternoon at the Marine Base, by a score of 12 to 1.

Lincoln, Hudson, Coons, Hylton, Pace Santa Ana's 84-47 Victory

Track-tutor John Ward's classy-corps of cindermen snapped out of a threatened slump by running away from the cross-country rivals from Fullerton in their first conference dual meet at Clayton field Wednesday, March 21, by a resounding 84-47 score.

The Dons made up for their weakness in the three jump events by scoring heavily on the track, winning every race except the two-mile in which Ward scratched his two aces, Jim Newcomb and Gordon Pusser. The Hornets' Palmer won the event, with the Dons Crawford and Gardner taking second and third respectively.

Off To Good Start

Newcomb and Pusser sent the locals off to a good start in the very first event, the mile run, which Newcomb won handily in 4:39.3. Pusser, running the mile for the first time this year, edged the Swarm's Brent De Monte for second.

Versatile Jerry Lincoln turned in an iron-man performance, with a surprise win in the 100 in 10.4, second behind Wayne Hudson in a 23.0 furlong, tie for third with Dick Coons in the high jump, and tie for third with Paul Gheen in the Pole Vault. Coons was the days only double winner, taking both hurdles in 15.7 and 25.4. Jacket ace Bob Boaz placed second in the highs, but trailed the Dons Coons and Noel Palm in the lows.

Kelly Hylton placed second in the Discus and Javelin and the in the shot. Merle Clever, 45' 8" with the iron-bulb, best his career. Thompson won the discus and Hornet Lynn Green won the Javelin at 184' 8".

Other SAC triumphs included Don Balsley who paced a D sweep in the 440, besting the improving Hudson and Jim Connor with a fast 51.9. Unbeaten Harry Quackenbush won the 8 in 2:04.1 with Tony De la Riva grabbing the place spot. The Don relay foursome also won the slow time of 3:40.4.

Women Will Hold Club Tourney To Aid WSSF Drive

An intra-club tournament of the four women's service clubs and the YWCA was suggested at a meeting of the Women's Athletic Association, Thursday, March 24. First prize is to be a small cup with the winner's name on it and if successful, the tournament may become an annual affair.

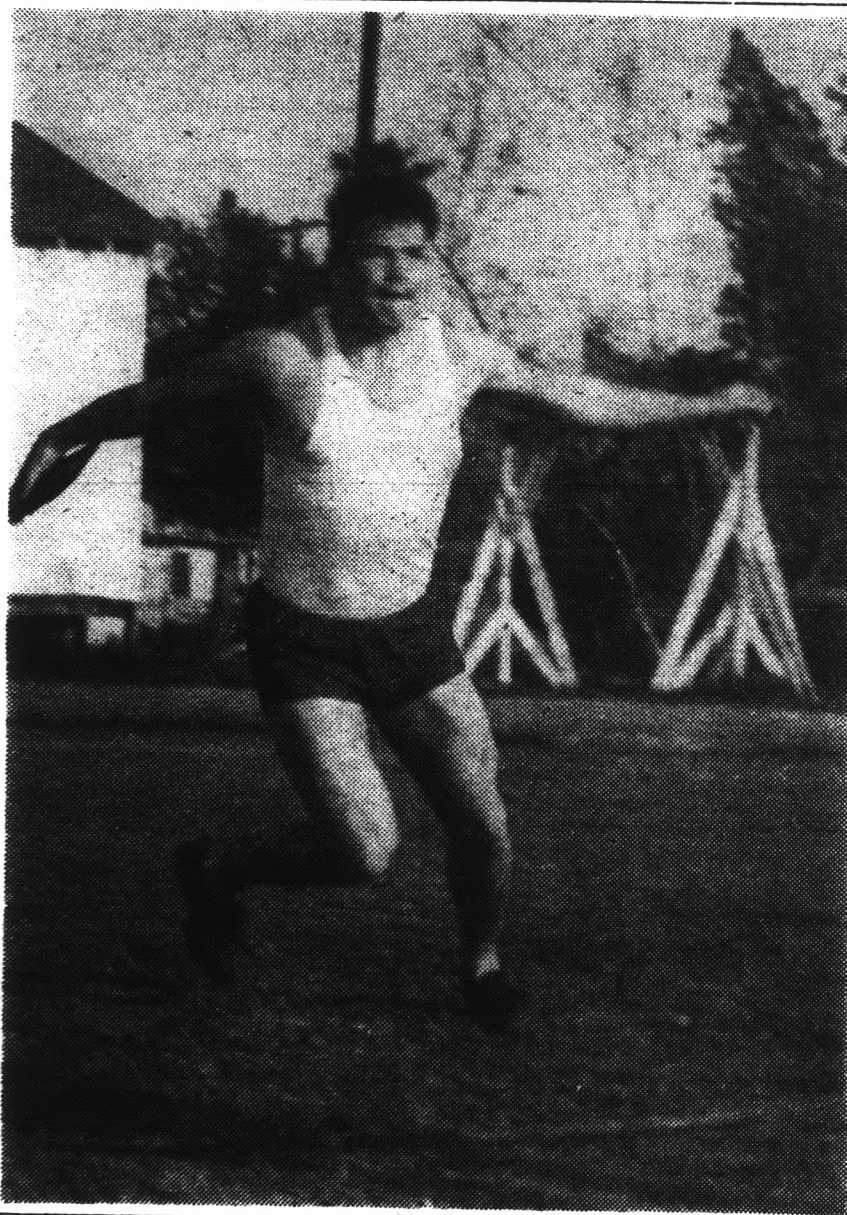

Members of the losing team will be asked to donate ten cents each. This tournament shall take place following Easter vacation.

Next sporting event of the WAA will be a volley ball game with Long Beach City College at the SAC volley ball court, Wednesday, April 30 at 2:30 p.m. Carmen Perez is the newly elected manager for the volley ball team.

SAC Golfers Win Second Straight

The local Don golf team won their second straight game from Chaffey college last Thursday by the close score of 8-7. The game was played on the locals home course at Willowick Public Golf course.

Under the able leadership of Coach Bill Cook the Dons are improving with each contest. Winners of matches were: captain Bill Huelskamp, Fred Wener, Chuck Bauer and George Billingsley.
